FIRST DAY—AFTERNOON SESSION—JANUARY 25, 1928

The Conference was reassembled by the Bishop.

The Rev. J. D. Jackson led "I'll be present when the roll is called." "Glory to His Name" was led by Rev. Dailey.

After the completion of reports, the following visiting ministers were introduced to the Conference and given the opportunity to address the same. Dr. J. M. Wise, P. E. He advanced the idea that the Bishop ably assisted by Mrs. K. Bertha Hurst had advanced this Episcopal District to the first place in the church through the co-operation of the men in the state. That there are men on other districts who desire to take him as their head. That it will require effort to keep the Bishop, nevertheless he must be kept with us.

Dr. R. B. Brookins, P. E. of Orlando District, South Fla. Conference. He said the members of his district are doing their bit to carry on the church program. That he had organized eight new Missions. That he had caught the spirit of the Bishop and in the sixteen years that he has been here and had gone forward with the church. That he will be one of the foremost men to tell the General Conference that we must have the Bishop back in Florida.

Dr. F. R. Simms, P. E. of Thomasville District, Georgia Conference. He said the life and work of Mrs. Hurst with the Bishop were an inspiration to men and women of the state. That Florida ought to have them since they have done so much for it in sixteen years that they have been here. That it will be many years before we will have the duplicate of the Bishop in educational work. Closing, he said if you turn him loose Georgia will take him to lead their District.

Dr. F. M. Johnson, P. E. of Arlington District, Georgia Conference said that Bishop Hurst is a dreamer whose dreams come true. That when South Carolina took Bishop Hurst as its head, the Church owed $100,000.00 but today it only owes $5,000.00 which has caused South Carolina to desire him as its Bishop. That through the leadership of Bishop Hurst, Florida is the only state which offers only one candidate for the office of Bishop. That it is just and right for the Bishop to use only such men who will assist him in putting over his program to lead his groups.

Dr. J. A. Brown, P. E. of Central Conference followed in the same vein, saying that all is safe in Central Florida. That no man has measured the height, depth and breadth of Bishop Hurst. That the Lord sent him here and only the Lord could take him away. That under the Bishop we have made so much progress that we do not seem to be the same people. That we must go to the General Conference and bring him back.

Doxology. Benediction by Dr. T. M. White.

WEDNESDAY EVENING—FIRST DAY

Singing—"Praise God from whom all blessings flow."

Dr. Dailey led the ritualistic services, after which he lined hymn No. 439, "The nations call from sea to sea." Prayer by Dr. J. S. Johnson. Selection by the choir. Scripture lesson Ephesians 4th chapter, 1st to 22nd verses read by Dr. Archer.

Doxology. Benediction by Dr. Bonaparte.

THURSDAY MORNING—SECOND DAY

Devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. J. J. Smith and Rev. D. J. James.

Rev. Smith led "Come to Jesus." He afterwards conducted the ritualistic services.

He also lined "Oh for a thousand tongues to sing my great Redeemer's praise." Prayer by Rev. John Pree.

Rev. James led "I'm thine oh Lord."

The scripture lesson 24th Psalm was read by Rev. Smith who afterwards led the decalogue.

Rev. Jones led "I'll be present when the roll is called."

Members of the Conference led in singing the following selections: "I have been to the water." "Down at the cross." "I'm running on." Rev. Collins led in prayer. "Oh Lord let your will be done." Dr. Hawkins led "I'm traveling up to glory" and "Anywhere since I get a place."

The Conference received from Rev. J. A. Hammonds $1.00 for Dollor Money, Seminary Money and Missionary fund each.

The following districts made supplementary reports: The Ocala, The Suwannee, The New Gainesville, The Dunnellon, The High Springs.

At the conclusion of reports the Bishop gave the following eminent divines an opportunity to address the Conference.

Dr. Flemming who said many good things of the Bishop and the brethren.

Dr. Gass, resident pastor of M. E. Church, South, Live Oak, Fla.

The Bishop led "Blest be the tie that binds."

Dr. Daugherty, P. E. of the Monticello District, Florida Conference, His address was short, historical and very complimentary of our Bishop.

Dr. I. S. Roundtree, P. E. Tallahassee District. In a pleasing way he gave a short history of his life.

Dr. M. T. Gaines, P. E. of Perry District. In his remarks he said he received his inspiration from the Bishop. That he as on his way to the General Conference to bring Bishop Hurst back.

Dr. J. S. Johnson said the Bishop and Mrs. Hurst had made him what he is. That he believed in the Bishop's judgment. That he has not any sympathy for those who curse the Bishop.

Dr. W. D. Certain gave a short history of his life work in the Church in Florida. He said the greatest church work that has been done in Florida has been since the Bishop has been here. That he attributed it to his parents who were natives of Maryland. That his teachers had been Bishops Payne and Lee. That his having been trained as a diplomat in the Haitian Legation in Washington. That there is not another Bishop in the church to do the work which Bishop Hurst is doing.

Dr. A. J. Ferrell, P. E. Central Conference. That it semed to him that the church had slid in the ditch before Bishop Hurst came to us.

That now he has transmitted into us the necessary manhood to enable us to arise and go forward. That the Bishop has taught men to pay debts. That he has caught the reins of the College and has stopped the men who once took the money. That now they take no more. That whereas sixteen years ago we had no College plant of our own, now we have one which is the admiration of all those who pass by. That traveling extensively over the state he learns directyl from the laymen that the laymen desire the Bishop to stay with us during his active days and to have him make his home with us when he retires.

Dr. C. S. Long, P. E. of the Tampa District stated that he was trained to love all of the Bishops and Presiding Elders. That Bishop Hurst is his man. That when Bishop Hurst came here, we had 500 churches—now we have 1060 churches. That the College plant was worth $25,000 with debt of $18,000 on it. That value of college plant is $500,000 with no debt against it. That we know when the Bishops all changed districts every four years that we also know not much was done by them who changed every four years. That the Presiding Elders had the best organized machine that the state has ever had. That Bishop Hurst is coming back to this state and district. That his grand father was a class leader in the church of which Bishop Allen was the pastor. That the Bishop had the pen with which Bishop Allen wrote class tickets in his collection of souvenirs, in his home in Baltimore, Md. That the secret of Bishop Hurst's success is that men must be going at high speed to lead his groups. That he prayed the blessing of the Lord on the Bishop and Mrs. Hurst.

CONFERENCE MINUTES

Revs. Bennett, Coffee and J. A. Long were introduced and made short addresses expressing their high purpose for the church and their devotion to the Bishop.

Dr. R. B. Brooks, representative of the Afro-American Group Life Insurance Dept, said that he had worked with the Bishop and had done all the work which he was requested to do. That if Bishop Hurst had been here the property in South Jacksonville would not have been involved. That he concurred in all that the others had said of the Bishop. That as ministers of the people, the ministers ought to insure. That a beneficiary had received $500.00 recently from a policy on which only $45.00 had been paid. That when he had made the rounds of the Conferences that he shall have paid out $1925.00 to the beneficiaries.

The Bishop brought the information that all the missionaries are insured for $100.00. That the premium is paid from the Contingent Fund. This elicited the information that this is the only district in which this is done in the Church.

The Presiding Elders of the Conference requested the members of their districts to remain in the church for consultation for a short while after dismission.

Doxology. Benediction by Dr. R. W. Whitehurst.

SECOND DAY—THURSDAY AFTERNOON

The Bishop re-assembled the Conference and led "All hail the power of Jesus' name."

Rev. J. A. Pride prayed.

"Saviour, more than life to me" was led by Dr. Hawkins.

The various financial committees reports were read and adopted as follows:

- Church Extension Fund—read by Conference Accountant.

The Bishop directed the Financial committee to receive the funds from the presiding elders and properly distribute them.

Pres. J. R. E. Lee of the State College, Tallahassee, was introduced to the Conference. His address brought information in line of public education.

Rev. Ferrell responded to it very favorably.

The Bishop made a short address in which he said that he had examined the records of Dr. Grant while he was a student at Tallahassee State College. That he found that he had paid his way by draying—hauling trunks for students, etc. That the records showed that while attending Gammon Theological Seminary, Atlanta, Ga., that he worked to partly pay his expense and help support his aged mother.

Dr. Grant in his address told of the work of Mrs. Hurst and the Bishop in the state.

Dr. A. B. Cooper, president of Edward Waters College and Dr. T. W. Carter, dean of the B. F. Lee Theological Seminary, E. W. C., were introduced.

President Cooper in his address said that he subscribed heartily to the tribute paid to the Bishop and Mrs. Hurst. That this is an age of group action. That he as a part of the church machinery of the state would act in co-operation with the other part of it in bringing Bishop Hurst back to the state and also in helping to elect Dr. Grant bishop. That all of us in the state have a great heritage of being a part of this great church.

Dean Carter said that there are two planks in this platform—that is to bring Bishop Hurst back to Florida and to elect Dr. Grant bishop. That we are what Bishop Hurst made us in the last sixteen years. Be it good or be it bad. That at that time most of us were not very much in the church. That since the bishop is more mind than body, that it requires 100,000 persons to do his bidding rather than 50,000. That Edward Waters College campus is most historic in that the buildings there keep fresh in the memory the great souls who labored to build the church. That is Bishop Grant and Bishop B. F. Lee.

The Bishop in his address indicated to the brethren that it saves time to dispense with duplicity. Nevertheless there was a solemn ring of sincerity in all that had been said by those who had spoken. He said further, that when it came to his duty, he always did it, no matter what was said of it afterwards.

Doxology. Benediction by Rev. J. D. Jones.

THURSDAY EVENING—SECOND DAY

Prayer by Dr. Ferrell.

Scripture lesson Proverbs 3rd chapter, 1st to 13th verses was read by Dr. Long.

The choir led "Take my hand dear Father."

The Bishop introduced Dr. Hawkins to read the educational report. The Bishop in his introductory remarks said that he strove to have each dollar given for education to bring 100% return. How well he had succeeded, you know, he said.

President Cooper was introduced to make the leading address of the evening. In his remarks he said it is great to have a great conception of a great cause. That in the boarding department we have 61 boys and 80 girls. That the enrollment is 620 students in Grammar School, Junior and Senior High Schools and College, Normal and Theological departments. That the courses offered are in keeping with the practice of the day. That we have one of the best printers in the Race in the person of Prof. Simms. That the music department comprising voice, band and orchestra is in good shape. That it is through the liberality of Bishop Hurst that we have the new instruments as they were purchased with his personal check. That there is a night school for the ministers. That we have a faculty there who will measure up to any to be had. That there have been some irregularities, as will sometimes occur. That those who were not in harmony with the traditions of Methodism have been replaced by those who are.

That the stars and stripes float above the campus and that the E. Waters College High School Department is now on the accredited list of High Schools of the State of Florida. A letter from State Supervisor of High Schools was read sustaining him in above statements. He further stated that Edward Waters College is only private school in state so accredited. He answered in the affirmative that education pays. To make the assertion that the world owes me a living is a trifling statement said he. That a brute can get a living. Education prepares men to make contributions to progress and brings forth the best in us. The parents in the audience were informed that their boys and girls must have religion with their education. He closed in a burst of eloquence. The audience cheered to the limit.

A solo "Soon this life will be over" by Dr. Jeltz.

Dean Carter of B. F. Lee Theological Seminary being introduced advanced the idea that the measurement of a theological attainment is more difficult than any other. That sometimes we think the religion of to-day is not so good as it was yesterday. But that as a matter of fact it is better in practice than it was. That there are attending B. F. Lee Seminary thirty-one students as follows: College Dept. 5; High School 10; Special 10; under grade work 6. That a further challenge awaits the present day ministry. That the minister of the coming day must compete with the other activities of the day. That the time has passed when ministry can fill all positions. That he must concentrate on his own field. That he must lead the people so that they will follow him and not movies and dance halls.

He said further to not sell the church too cheaply. That the gospel is a dynamic force but more so when it comes through the preacher.

The choir led "My Saviour and my God." Bishop Hurst made an offering of $30.00 for education. He informed the Conference that he had done this the ninth time this Conference year, making a total of $270.00 he had given for education through Conference church channels. He then directed the Presiding Elders to come forward and read the contributions from the ministers on their districts. The reports were as follows: Ocala District, $153.00; Suwannee District $150.00; New Gainesville District $175.00; Dunnellon District $123.00; High Springs District $175.00. Decalogue by Dr. Young.
Dr. Hawkins lined hymn No. 277 "Jesus the name high over all."
Dr. Dickerson, presiding elder of the Suwannee District presented Bishop Hurst to preach the ordination sermon.
Bishop Hurts selected as his text Romans 8th chapter, 17th verse. "And if children, then heirs; heirs of God, and joint heirs with Christ; if so be that we suffer with him, that we may be also glorified together."
Among the many good things the Bishop said was that no individual or nation wished to be blotted out. This he illustrated by the Egyptian civilization, its monuments, etc. Nevertheless, he said, though it be chiseled in marble that in time it would fall.
Speaking of the great African general when told that his end was approaching said, so much to do and so short a time in which to do it.
He said that our children must carry on what we leave unfinished.
He said further that the father smiles at the tempest as he provides for his children to fill useful positions. That the man who spends all that he makes does not have good sense, a she is acting contrary to nature. That there is a law of self-preservation which impels a man to prepare for his children. He said that the basic idea of the Soviets of Russia, carried to its conclusion, robs a man of the incentive to prepare for his children. Also, that no law among the Jews covered the point. That they often divided their property between the children before their death.

That from the fiat of God came mountains, plains, seas, skies, stars, suns, moons and even man. That all these were bestowed upon man.

That from Mr. Roosevelt we hear much of conservation. Too much has been squandered. Too much has been grasped by corporate wealth. That there is something nature called conservation. That the grass, coal, silver and gold, all came from the earth. That nothing is lost. Nevertheless, not all God's gifts are material. That God has also endowed us for the enjoyment of things of heaven.

The poet calls it "a land of light." "A heaven prepared for us." That God quickens us and we sing "Freed from sin and death." That Christ Jesus has died and that is remission.

He said further, that should you go to a Pittsburgh iron foundry you would see iron running into molds. When it is cooled, it is fashioned for service. With emphasis, the Bishop said to the Conference put yourselves into a melting pot and let your heart be melted one with Christ. That Christ was often tired, weary and hungry, but never sick because he kept the laws of nature.

He counselled the Conference to also keep nature's laws. Said he, we eat and drink too much, hence we are frequently sick.

He told the ministers that their duty was to build character.

The picture glowed as the Bishop told how Jesus was hounded. Peter denied—and the hypocrite appeared in Thomas and the silence of others. Nevertheless, Thomas cried "My Lord and my God" after he had put his finger in his side.

Said he, my brethren, you are treading the same road. Mingling with a people you know not about. They often will be with you one day and against you the next day. Said he, if you suffer with Him here you will rule with Him hereafter.

That the things to work for are eternal; more lasting than things material.

To the ministers he said, there is a hand divine that works for you in your fields of labor. Do not let your trust go—hold on to the word. Sinners will believe and be saved.

Dr. Hawkins led "When my life's work is ended."

The next was the ordination service.

Bishop Hurst ordained Bro. James S. Pryor itinerant deacon; he was assisted by Revs. Gibbs and Braddy.

Bishop Hurst led "Come, Holy Spirit, Heavenly Dove" after which he ordained as elders the following: Revs. H. B. Floyd, W. L. Menchant, John Pree and S. G. Atkins. He was assisted in the ordination by Drs. Hawkins, Archer, Young, Dailey and Dickerson.

REPORT ON STATE OF THE CHURCH

Live Oak, Fla., January 26, 1928

To the Bishop and Members of the Middle South Florida Conference:

We your committee on the above named subject beg leave to submit the following as our report:

Of all organizations existing to day, the Christian Church is contributing more than any others toward the advancement of our civilization. Great and serious problems are constantly arising against the Church; and it is up to those of us who are members of this body, the Church of Christ, to devise means and ways whereby these conditions may be solved. We believe that the Church is still in the hands of consecrated men and women—men and women who are led by the spirit to direct its course. For in the midst of tempestuous billows and stormy seas, she seemed, at times to drawn on the rock; but God has piloted pious men on earth who have led her safely onward and upward.

In the face of the crises of the times, the Church, and the A. M. E. Church in particular, is holding its own, and when places of honor and distinction are to be filled by men of our group the A. M. E. Church has received, in most cases, first consideration. During the interim of the Middle South Florida Conference the American government has, repeatedly knocked at her doors, looking for a man to fill places made vacant for various reasons. When Howard University needed a president, the government sought the services of Bishop J. A. Gregg, who was then and is now serving the A. M. E. Church in West Africa. Because of the love he has for his Church, and because of his love for the office which he so well fills, he refused to accept, notwithstanding many of his friends thought he should have accepted. And again, when the office of Civil Service Commissioner of the city of Chicago had to be filled, the eyes of the city were at once turned upon the A. M. E. Church in search of a man to fill the place. This position not only carries with it great financial return, but it is a position of unusual responsibility and trust. To this office the Rt. Rev. A.J. Carey was appointed, and we are glad to say, according to reports, Bishop Carey is filling the office with credit and honor, not only to his own race, but to the nation at large.

It is the belief of the committee that the A. M. E. and A. M. E. Zion Churches have taken another forward step in their attempt to unite into one body and be known as the United Methodist Episcopal Church. In the last Bishop's Council, held in Pittsburgh, Pa., tentative plans were suggested, and accepted as such whereby these bodies might be united and operate.

Many years ago the Conference on Faith and Orders lighted its torch at the Edinburgh Congregationalists, Disciples of Christ and Episcopalians—and has gone steadily forward until today it enlists the cooperation of nearly every Christian Church throughout the world. On last August 3-21, this great body met in Lausanne, Switzerland, where, according to reports, they discussed such subjects as "The Call to Unity," "The Church's Message to the World—the Gospel," "The Nature of the Church," "The Church's Common Confession of Faith," "The Church's Ministry," "The Sacraments," "The Unity of Christendom and the Relation thereto of existing Churches," "Arrangements for continuing the work of the Conference."

We are happy to report to you that the Churches of the darker races took an active part in this world-wide program, and more happy are we to report that the A. M. E. Church was well represented, having for our representatives Bishops Heard and Hurst; the latter of whom played a very conspicuous part, first because of his national achievements, secondly because of his natural ability, and thirdly because he was able to speak fluently languages other than his native tongue.

We are rapidly approaching the next General Conference which is to be held in the city of Chicago, Ill., in May of the present year. Since we last met in an annual Conference, God has seen fit to take home from our ranks one of our chieftains, Bishop I. N. Ross. While we believe that our loss is heaven's gain, yet we loath to give up our deceased brother. Because of vacancies made by death and other reasons, men are clamoring for new positions, some of whom, with little or no thought of the importance and sacredness of the place sought. It is the hope and prayer of the committee that the Church will use great care and scrutiny in selecting those who shall have the oversight of the General Church.

In the face of the present crisis through which the country is passing it appears that the Church has held its own in the following: religiously, numerically and financially, while in the latter there might be a slight falling off, due to general financial conditions of the country.

The Church is being attacked by critics, atheists and infidels, but we believe that she has nothing to fear, having for her foundation Jesus Christ, the solid rock, she is like a tree planted by the rivers of water and cannot be moved. We believe that God is a force of such divine energy and such immutable energy, that he made all things and can at His will breathe into existence planets, satellites, worlds, and their parts and then breathe into clay and the result will be a living soul, and a God of that power and magnitude, there are none who can oppose Him. During the past year the numerical strength of the Church was increased by a large percentage.

One of the pressing needs of the Protestant Church today is to give more attention to the pulpit. Death is draining the American pulpits faster than ordination is filling them. It is alarming to learn, but according to reports, the majority of the Protestant ministers today are above the age of forty-five. What will be the condition in ten years if this condition continues to prevail. The rate of increase in the church is much greater than that of candidates well prepared for the ministry. The attendance in the Seminaries has, for the last few years, been far below the requirements. For some reason, young men who are promising those who seem to have a bright tomorrow, enter other avenues of life and leave the church to use whatever she can get.

REPORT ON STATE OF THE COUNTRY

Live Oak, Fla., January 25, 1928
To the Bishop and Members of the Middle South Florida Conference:

We your committee on the state of the country beg leave to submit the following report:

We feel grateful to our heavenly Father for his kindness toward us during this Conference year. Hence, we are able to meet face to face, in another session of our annual conference, in the favor of God and in the sunlight of His love.

In bringing to you the report on the state of the country, we shall not attempt to give everything in detail as it has occurred, but we shall give you some scattered threads as we have been able to gather them.

Looking at conditions as they are, we are permitted to say according to the sayings of Christ, we are now living in the day he told his disciples of, and because iniquity shall abound, the love of many shall wax cold—St. Matthew 24:12. One of the signs given by our Saviour of the approaching end of the gospel age is that iniquity shall abound. To the same intent, the apostle wrote to his son Timothy in the gospel, evil men and seducers shall wax worse and worse. With infidelity and worldiness honeycombing the church, with drunkenness, vice and crime rapidly increasing upon every side, it should require a glance at the facts to convince anyone that these scriptures are having their fulfillment in our day, and that we are therefore living in the very time which Christ and the apostle referred to. These things have been long recognized by the most liberal minds of our country.

The lack of indignation at flagrant wickedness is one of the alarming symptoms of our times. We are living in the midst of an amount of corruption second only to that of Sodom and Gomorrah. Dishonesty, profanity, drunkenness, licentiousness of large proportions on the part of public men are simply notorious. No period of our history has anywhere nearly approached the first decade of the present century in revelations regarding municipal, state and national graft. Let no one think that the deplorable conditions alluded to have been recognized only by an individual minister here and there. The religious press has united with the pulpit from time to time in an endeavor to arouse people to a sense of the danger of being overwhelmed by the rapid tide of corruption. Bank robberies, crime rings, despotisms, official corruptions, domestic tragedies, burglaries, suicides, and all kinds of crimes come upon us like tidal waves, so constant and regular in their visitations that we are no longer startled by them.

In this country of ours the people of pessimistic tendencies say it is not to be denied that corruption in both private and public life is lamentably frequent; that crimes of every grade abound; men in all relations of life exhibit a degree of selfishness which shows that conditions are no better. The words of the apostle are true, whether applied to church or world—evil men and seducers shall wax worse and worse.

But the abounding iniquity in the form of crimes is not only seen in municipal, state and national corruption. Vice stalks unabashed even in public places in many of our cities. Intemperance is one of the great and crying evils of our time, yet its enormity, as it really exists, is seldom appreciated. Nor do we confine these evils to our own borders; no sooner are the heathen people brought in touch with civilization than they are also contaminated with the white man's vices.

There is a cry in the land against the oppression of the sick. There is a demand for bread for the poor. There is a reason enough for this; but there is a terrible slavery worse than that which is caused by the oppression of the monopolist and the money kings, the slavery of vice, of perverted appetite, habit-forming drugs, alcohol, tobacco, opium, cocaine, etc., are doing their deadly work on every hand. If liquor and tobacco were wiped out of the land it would result in a saving sufficient to educate all the children, support all the churches and foreign missions and to buy almost all the staple groceries consumed by all the people.

The influence of debasing appetites is truly awful, especially upon the young; and what can we expect from the rising generations. The liquor men are alive to their own selfish interests, and are looking to the youth to supply them with patrons in the near future, and are sparing no pains to create in them a love for various alcoholic liquors, as an offset to the various temperance measures which are cutting into their business. In countries outside the United States the same evils prevail, to a greater extent.

Lynching. The number of lynchings for 1927 has been sixteen; for 1928, to this writing, two. The N. A. A. C. P. has been untiring in its efforts to stamp out this pernicious crime.

Modesty and Immodesty. Style has outstripped itself. Modesty in dress among the ladies of our country, with a few exceptions, is a thing of the past. Modesty has veiled her face, and taken a back seat. Immodesty has unveiled her face and is marching in the forefront of our nation. This evil is not the best thing for our nation.

Our country has been visited this year by several storms and tidal waves which resulted in the loss of numbers of lives and property. Our country is still in the midst of political quarrels and eruptions.

Finance and Farm Products. The figures from the national banks of this country for the year ending June the 30th, 1927, the amount of cash in the savings was $26,000,000,000, an increase of $1,368,094,000 over the amount for the previous year. According to these figures, there is no real reason for hard times. The statistics also show that the country has a national wealth of nearly four billions of taxable property. One hundred and thirty billions are in agriculture and agricultural implements.

In sixteen southern states, there are two thousand and seventeen Negroes owning their own farms and lands. There are about 200,000 half croppers, twelve thousand farm associations, with membership of two hundred thousand. These co-operative associations are doing two and a half billions worth of business annually. The times have been tight for the past year, but it has been a prosperous year.

Respectfully submitted,

T. M. WHITE, Chairman of committee

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON EDUCATION

Live Oak, Fla., January 26, 1928

To the Bishop and Members of the Middle South Florida Conference:

We your committee on Education beg to submit the following report:

Daniel Webster said, "as a man is in all circumstances under God, the master of his own fortunes, so he is the maker of his own mind. The maker has so constituted the human intellect, that it can only grow by its own actions."

Radically, education means to draw out. Primarily its concern is the capacity and possibility of one's nature. What these are, is its business to determine. It recognizes the responsibility of its mission and at once enters upon its discharge.

Education is a jewel, both beautiful and excellent. Look at it in any light, estimate it by any standard, and you have a pearl of great price, a thing of incomparable value. Whenever one is heard to speak indifferently of this priceless jewel, rest assured that he is prating in an unknown tongue. Says Addison: "I consider a human soul without education like marbles in the quarry which shows none of its inherent beauty until the skill of the polisher fetches out the colors, makes the surface shine and discovers every ornamental cloud spot and vein that runs through the body of it."

Education, after the same manner, when it works upon a noble mind, draws out to view every latent virtue and perfection, which, without such help is never able to make its appearance. The road to learning and culture is through the golden gateway of education.

As a race, indulge us in this retrospection. In 1865 there were but four colleges admitting Negroes. Oberlin College early opened her doors to the black man. The Congregational Church began its work of Negro education with a day school at Fortress Monroe in 1861. The Amercian Baptist Missionary, The Freedman's Aid Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church was organized in 1866 and began its work at once. In 1865 Congress established the Freedman's Bureau which in five years established 4,239 schools and employed 9,307 teachers; instructed 247,333 pupils and expended for education $3,521,936.

In 1865 only five per cent of the Negroes could read and write. In 1925 more than 85 per cent were classed as literate. Today instead of four colleges admitting Negroes we find a hearty welcome in more than five hundred colleges. Denominational pride forces us to point to Wilberforce, the first Negro college owned and controlled by our race; and notwithstanding apparent rupture and discord within the confines of this old institution, that has given us so many great characters, the most prominent of whom is our own Bishop John Hurst. It is our prayer that her enemies' covenant with death will be disannulled, and that their agreement with hell can't stand.

We also with gleeful hearts and animated spirit point to Edward Waters College, with the unequalled Rt. Rev. John Hurst as Chancellor, and the Rev. A. B. Cooper as president, with a prepared faculty, that goes on from one phenominal achievement to another.

These colleges have trained men to be ministers, teachers, lawyers, doctors, etc. These schools have given the world masters in literature, such as Scarborough, who wrote a Greek text book. Masters in painting such as H. O. Tanner, who won a prize for painting in France. Masters in poetry such as Paul Lawrence Dunbar. Educational training from these schools alone will not suffice; if we would be strong, we must not forget our God.

Your committee,
G. W. HAWKINS, Chairman

REPORT ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL

Live Oak, Fla., January 28, 1928

To the Bishop and Members of the Middle South Florida Conference:

We beg to submit the following report:

Having been reminded of the unfeigned faith that is in thee, which dwelt first in thy grandmother Lois and thy mother Eunice; and I am persuaded in thee also: for which cause I put you in remembrance that thou stir up the gift of God which is in thee; through the laying on of my hands.—2nd Timothy, 1:5.

The modern Sunday School is usually considered as beginning with the efforts of Robert Raides, and it may be considered as a modern institution. But the underlying principle is found in the scriptures.

1st—The Sunday School is not a substitute for the home, but supplementary to it. It is a mistake for parents to think that the Sunday School relieves them of obligations for the religious education of their children. Such characters as Timothy are normally the product of the religious training of the home. His faith came from his grandmother and mother. The Sunday School cannot take the place of the influence of Godly parents and of Christian family life. For, the family altar and religious instruction in the home are still of supreme importance.

However, because so many parents neglect or are incapable of performing this fundamental duty of training their children for God, the Sunday School must plan to do its utmost to meet all the religious needs of the pupils. It is the Church's duty to reach out and gather in and teach the children of unchurched parents.

2nd—The Sunday School must do its share to meet adequately the needs of every stage in the development of the individual from infancy to old age.

Our religious nurture should begin from infancy. That is why the Sunday School begins with the "Cradle Roll" and the "Beginners' Department." There must be a graded school in which the needs of the pupils of each age shall be adequately met.

The Sunday School is not an institution for children only, as it has its Cradle Roll, Beginners, Primary, Junior and Senior departments, and all of them teaching about Jesus Christ.

The Sunday School's chief task is to teach and to apply the word of God. "Thou hast known the sacred writings." For Timothy this meant the Old Testament. For the modern Sunday School it means the Old and New Testaments. The Bible, the revelation of truth, the great builder of character, the guide in conduct, the source of the highest ideals of a nation—in home, business, industry, legislation, citizenship, education, and international relationships.

In fulfilling this task, the Sunday School's aims are:

1st—To head the individual to Jesus Christ.

2nd—To mould the character of the individual. Abide in the things thou hast learned. The truth is to be a permanent possession, and the truth learned is to result in character which will continue to prompt and assure right conduct. So the Sunday School does not stop with shaping opinions. It must mould character and determine conduct.

In order to do these things the modern Sunday School must have a program of activity. It must have its expressional side. This applies throughout its departments.

Older classes are organized for service. The privileges of the Sunday School place upon one the obligation of service.

The challenge to parents is to erect the family altar and hold themselves responsible for the religious education of their children.

To officers and teachers—to rededicate themselves to their Sunday School task with a clear vision of its aims and with new devotion.

To members of the Sunday School—to avail themselves of the opportunities for self-culture and to embrace their opportunities for the service to others.

To church members who are not members of the Sunday School—To take their places in the church's institution for the study of God's word.

To those who are not members of the Church or Sunday School—To ally themselves with the Sunday School, for the sake of their own spiritual development, the welfare of their family and of the nation.

Your committee,

REVS. R. ALBERT AND N. W. WHITE.
